ARTIST STATEMENT

Using patches of torn paper, some that I have made, and acrylic paint on canvas, I reimagine and sculpt my memories and impressions of a place. I wander around in the world of the painting looking for what feels like sacred zones. I'm inspired by the color and power of mountains in mystical light against the sky, vast and expansive vistas, patterned country fields, and pastoral valleys with ephemeral signs of life. I want to share my sense of awe and gratitude. I feel and touch, more than see, the land, the patterned country fields, and the hushed valleys far in the distance as I shape and place bits of paper and color onto the canvas.
